

Landing at Zaragoza

Saturday, 09 June 2007

Â

The ground handler at

Luton airport informed us that they can not make arrangement to get fuel for our aircraft. We took a 10 minute short flight to Southend airport for refueling. Â Â Â

We departed Southend airport for our next flight to LeBourget air port in France .

Our next flight was to Cuatro Vientos airport in Madrid , but due to bad weather, we had to divert to Zaragoza (LEZG).

At

Zaragoza a very friendly guy, how was also a pilot, took a special interest in our around the world trip. He offered to give us a ride from the airport and fine us a hotel.
