

San Francisco on July 11th

Monday, 09 July 2007

After several hours of delay, we landed at San Francisco International. We wanted to over fly a vineyard that is architecturally designed like Persapolice. We made flight plan to go VFR for the portion of our flight to get lower for a better view.

An Iranian Gentleman how learned about the freedom Flight was waiting at the airport and insisted for us to stay at his home. He was also a pilot.
