

Over the Black Sea to Turkey

Saturday, 16 June 2007

We left Warsaw this morning for

Ankara, Turkey at 8:40 am. We were cleared to flight level 100.

Our route was over Ukraine and

Black Sea .

Weather was clear during our flight. Once we passed the Black see and approached the land over

Turkey , we run into high clouds and finally we had to land through thunderstorm. The air traffic controller made no attempt to vector us around the thunderstorm. It appeared as he did not have access to weather radar. We arrived at

Esenboga

Airport at 2:30.
